What feedback would you pass on to your instructor to prepare for teaching the course again next year?

- Nothing, he was great!
- Everything was extremely well organized and clear. Jacob did try a couple of approaches with the lab material, but I think we managed to sort out the kinks after a couple of different approaches.

What were some of your highlights of Methods U?

Methods University – Post-Course Student Evaluations
Kirksey, Causal Inference

- Jacob was great, lunch was awesome
- going through multiple examples really helped
- Learning how to evaluate y new data in a more effective way
- Learning how to use Stata, learning different methodologies for how to really get at causality
- The intensity of the course was really great and immersive. Someone referred to it as a "working retreat" at the start of the week, and that is exactly how it felt. What I enjoyed best was being able to stick my hand up and say I needed more clarification or examples before we moved forward. I haven't had the chance to do that in my Econ courses as I'm newer to Metrics compared to those in the class. Jacob also did a great job of checking in to make sure everyone was on the same page.

How can we improve Methods U?

- More swag, make t-shirts
- coffee in the morning :)
- Maybe make it over a period of a couple days as opposed to two full 8 hour days
- Coffee on the second day of the workshop! If I was in charge of the food budget, I would focus on providing coffee, breakfast and snacks (ideally a few more healthy options) on both days, rather than having a catered lunch.

Please take time to leave any other general feedback you have for the Methods U team.

- thanks for such a great workshop! I feel bad I didn't go to the happy hour--it was just too much for one day.
- I wanted to again extend my heartfelt thanks to Jacob for doing such a fantastic job. His approach was very accessible and welcoming.
